Alternative Outdoor

Once Upon A Time there was a very grumpy man. He worked in a job he hated, working for 'the man' doing meaningless tasks that crushed his soul and soured his mood. He left his job, packed his bags and travelled across the Atlantic in search of mountains covered in the freshest snow. For months he snowboarded every day, loving being in the mountains and loving his life. But, all good things must come to an end. With tears in his eyes and a pain in his heart he returned to his homeland. With no work and little money a decision had to be made. To go back to work for the corporate monster was not a possibility this enlightened man could face, and so with balls of steel (and a ridiculously supportive wife) he sold his house, moved in with his parents and used the money to build his dream - a Snowboard Shop where he could stock his favourite brands and meet like minded snowboarders.

The result? Eleven years later we're still going strong. We are an independently owned and run snowboard shop that stocks great brands at decent prices. ALL of the staff are snowboarders so we have first hand experience in the equipment we stock and extensive knowledge about what could work best for your next trip to the mountains. You could buy online at thesnowboardshop.co.uk but if you're close enough, we'd love to meet you in the shop, talk snowboarding and have a cuppa.

NEW YEAR, NEW JOB?

HERE'S HOW TO PREPARE!

While Christmas is certainly the most wonderful time of the year, returning to work in the New Year can sometimes feel like a drag.

So why not start a fresh year with an exciting new role?

Employers tend to advertise the most vacancies in January, so if you're ready to get looking, then here's how to prepare:

Perfect your CV

Your CV is the first insight an employer will have of you – so it's important to get it right. Stick to a clear structure, including a short personal profile, your relevant experience, skills and education.

Use a clear and easy-to-read font such as Arial or Calibri in size 12 and ensure that it's no more than two pages long.

Draft a basic cover letter

Alongside this, you need a winning cover letter that will expand on any key points in your CV and tell the potential employer why you're the perfect fit for the job.

It's worth drafting a basic version of your cover letter before you start your job hunt, so you can tailor it to each role you apply to.

Register to online job boards

Once you've nailed your CV and cover letter, why not sign-up to online job boards like CV-Library.

By registering your CV online, you'll be able to search and apply to thousands of jobs, or be headhunted by employers directly – it's a win-win!

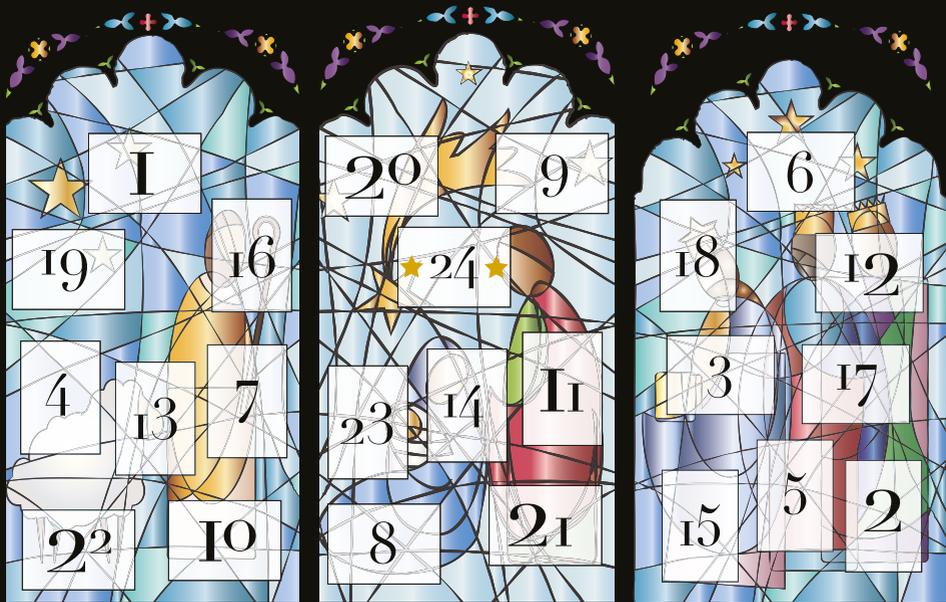

To upload your CV, visit:
www.cv-library.co.uk/register
